Hitachi Maru Believed to Have Struck Mine.

Fear All on Board Have Perished.

(By Associated Press Cable)
Tokio, Japan, October 22.—The Japanese steamship Hitachi Maru due at Delagoa Bay, Portuguese East Africa, October 1, is missing, and is believed to have struck a mine with the loss of all on board. The Hitachi Maru, a vessel of 6,550 tons gross, sailed from Yokohama for Liverpool on August 29. She touched at Colombo, Ceylon, on September 24th, but since that time nothing has been heard of her.

COAL MINERS RESUME WORK

Illinois Miners Go Back to Work This Morning.

bled today by General Pershing shows 67 lost, total survivors 170 and one unaccounted for.

NOT ALL AMERICANS

The casualty list shows that not all of the lost were Americans. The firemen, of whom many were killed, came principally from Spain and Portugal. Some of the non-commissioned officers among the American troops lost were men of foreign birth. Two of them were Germans by birth, one from Berlin and the other Oldenburg. General Pershing's report throws no new light on the attack, and so far as is known neither a submarine nor torpedo was seen.

DOES NOT EXEMPT RESERVE BANK STOCK

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Columbus, O., October 22.—A decision given by Judge John E. Sater of the federal court, sitting in Cincinnati this week in the case of the First National Bank of Cincinnati vs. Peter W. Durr, county auditor, has created general interest among national banks throughout the state as to taxation on the shares of stock in the federal reserve banks that they have acquired.

Judge Sater's decision held that such banks or their shareholders, are not entitled to exemption from taxation on their federal reserve bank stock.

MONTGOMERY OFFICERS WILL GO TO FRANCE

General Zimmerman and About Seventy-five Other Officers Will "Observe" War

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Camp Sheridan, Montgomery, Ala., October 22.—Brigadier General Chas. X. Zimmerman and about 75 other Ohio officers are soon to go to France for observation work in accordance with orders issued at the division headquarters today. It is possible they may be permanently attached to General Pershing's staff.

The brigade will pass out of existence tomorrow when the 42 companies of three regiments commanded by Gailbreath, Deming and Crossen will be merged with the 62nd field artillery brigade and the 73rd and 74th infantry brigades.

The first and second lieutenants of the three regiments to be broken up will be the only commissioned officers to go with their men. Eleven other officers, together with Zimmerman's brigade staff, will go to France.

MAY IMPORT THE "BOOZE" REGARDLESS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, October 22.—The Solicitor of the Treasury today decided that distilled spirits may be imported into the United States, notwithstanding the prohibition against such importation contained in the food bill. A section of the revenue bill, passed two months after the food bill, repealed the prohibition of imports.

Acting under the Solicitor's advice, the Treasury Department has instructed all customs collectors to release distilled spirits held up after the passage of the food bill, under the regulations which prevailed.

The New Classification Shows Every Man Registered in Which Class he Belongs and in What Order he Will be Called for Service by the Government.

ALL REGISTRANTS WILL BE GROUPED IN FIVE GREAT CONTROLLING CLASSES

The Intention of the Department is to Reduce and Simplify the Work of the Local and District Boards and Facilitate the Calling of Men to Service.

WASHINGTON, October 22.—(Associated Press Dispatch)—The five classifications into which men awaiting draft will be divided under the new regulations have become public before the time planned by the Provost-Marshal General, and are here published.

It was discovered today that what was to have remained an official secret was divulged at a dinner where Secretary Baker and Crowder attended.

The Provost Marshal discussed the regulations without intending to make them public, but some members of a New York Local Exemption Board, thinking to elucidate the general's speech, printed the classification on the back of the menu card.

The classifications are as follows, and show every man registered in which class he belongs, and in what order he will be called:

Class One: Single men, without dependent relatives. Married men or widowers with children who habitually fails to support his family. Married men dependent on wife. Married men or widowers with children not usefully engaged, family supported by income. Men not included in another description in this or other classes. Unskilled laborers.

Class Two: Married men or father of motherless children usefully engaged but family having sufficient income apart from his daily labor to afford adequate support during his absence. Married men with no children whose wife can support herself decently and without hardship. Skilled farm labor engaged in necessary industrial enterprise. Skilled industrial labor in necessary enterprise.

Class Three: Men with foster children dependent on daily labor for support. Men with aged, infirm or invalid parents or grandparents dependent upon them for support. Men with brothers or sisters competent to support themselves independent of daily labor or county support. County or municipal officials. Firemen or policemen. Necessary foremen in arsenals, munitions plants and navy yards. Necessary in customs house, as clerks. Persons necessary in mail service. Necessary employees in the service of the United States, technical or mechanical experts in industrial enterprise. Highly specialized experts in agricultural bureau of state or nation. Assistant or associate manager of necessary industrial enterprise, or necessary agricultural enterprise.

Class Four: For married men with wife and children, or widower with children dependent on daily labor for support, and no other reasonably adequate support available. Mariners in sea service of merchants or citizens in the United States. Heads of necessary industrial or agricultural enterprises.

Class Five: Officers of state or the United States. Regularly or duly ordained ministers. Students of divinity. Persons in military or naval service. Aliens. Alien enemies. Persons morally unfit. Persons physically or mentally unfit. Licensed pilots.

GEORGE SEES NO HOPE OF FINAL PEACE

Discusses Coming Great Allied Conference and its Import

(Associated Press Cable.)

London, October 22.—"I have scanned the horizon intently," said Premier Lloyd George today, "and I can see no terms in sight which will lead to enduring peace. The only terms now possible would mean an armed truce ending in an even more frightful struggle."

Mr. Lloyd George said Germany would make peace now only on terms which would enable her to benefit by the war. He asserted that would be encouragement to every empire in the future to repeat the experiment.

The Premier added that he hoped the enemies' terrible power might be broken this year, but that the temporary collapse of the Russian military power had postponed this hope.

The Allies were working in the greatest harmony, the Premier continued. He said they were on the eve of the most important interallied conference ever held, at which, for the first time, representatives of America and the Russian democracy would be present. He stated the conference meant to determine the ultimate issue of the war.

COUNTED OUT

BOB FITZSIMMONS.

DEATH GIVES FINAL COUNT FOR OLD "FITZ"

Former Champion Heavy Weight Pugilist Dies in Chicago

After Five Days Illness of Pneumonia.

Native of New Zealand Was Wonder of His Time.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Chicago, October 22.—Robert Fitzsimmons, former champion heavy-weight pugilist, died at a hospital here early today, after an illness of five days of pneumonia. The former champion was taken sick last Tuesday while appearing in a vaudeville theater and his ailment was first diagnosed as ptomaine poisoning.

Later it was discovered he had double pneumonia, and physicians declared he could not live. His remarkable vitality sustained him until Saturday, when he lapsed into unconsciousness.

Fitzsimmons, until he sank into the final stupor, fought for his life as he had fought for victory in the ring. Physicians declared life was prolonged several days by the grim determination of the man.

Fitzsimmons always was referred to as an Australian, because it was there he started his ring career, but he was born in Helston, Cornwall, England, June 4, 1862.

His parents, however, soon moved to New Zealand where he started to work in his father's blacksmith shop at 18. The former champion's career began as the winner of a lightweight battle in 1880. He defeated four men and thus became the amateur champion of the country. The next year he defended his honors, defeating five men in one night. He rarely weighed more than 165 pounds when in condition, and gave as much as 50 pounds to some opponents.

He won the world heavyweight championship title March 17, 1897, when he defeated James J. Corbett in the 14th round of their memorable battle at Carson City, Nevada.

COMBINED INFANTRY LAUNCHES NEW BLOW

General Haig Co-Operating With French "Moves Up."

Germans Are Attacked Along Narrow Front.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

In co-operation with the French on his left, Field Marshal Haig launched a new blow along a narrow front northeast of Ypres this morning.

The Allied Infantry moved forward in the neighborhood of the Staden railway on the outskirts of the extreme northern edge of the active front in Flanders. The French attack was made along a width of about three fourths of a mile. The British attack was along a wider front, extending toward Poelcapelle and possibly taking in the area of that town. Both groups of attacking forces scored early successes. Paris announces all objectives were attained, while Field Marshal Haig reported satisfactory progress.

The operation is aimed at bringing the left flank of the Allied advance somewhat further forward as a support to the center where the wedge has been driven further into the German front.

EVERYBODY URGED TO GET READY FOR GREAT LIBERTY DAY

All patriotic and liberty loving citizens of Fayette county are urged to do their bit on Liberty Day—Wednesday of this week, which has been set aside by President Wilson and Governor Cox as the day upon which the American people, old and young, rich and poor, are to "answer the Kaiser" by buying Liberty Loan Bonds.

All patriotic citizens who can do so are urged to assemble at the court house square, Wednesday morning at nine o'clock, bringing their automobiles in order to help the workers in this manner, and to help in the work of selling bonds.

Every Fayette county citizen is urged to remember that Wednesday of this week is "Liberty Day" and to act accordingly.

THREE MEET DEATH AT GRADE CROSSING

Lives of Mr. and Mrs. Alf Stuckey and Mrs. Ella Cook Snuffed Out at New Holland Last Night When Passenger Train Strikes Automobile.

TWO VICTIMS ARE SHOCKINGLY MANGLED

Accident Occurs at Bad Crossing in West Holland, Almost on County Line—East Bound Train on Pennsylvania Was Behind Time.

Another shocking grade crossing tragedy occurred at Williams Crossing in West Holland shortly after nine o'clock Sunday night, when the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Alf Stuckey, of near New Holland, and Mrs. Ella Cook of this city, were sacrificed by the east bound Pennsylvania passenger train while the train was running at 60 miles per hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuckey were mangled almost beyond recognition, and nearly every bone in their bodies was broken. Mrs. Cook was killed when the pilot of the engine crushed her skull. The Ford machine in which they were riding was literally reduced to scraps.

The tragedy occurred while Mr. and Mrs. Stuckey, and Mrs. Cook, who was a sister of Mrs. Stuckey, were on their way home after making a call at the home of Jess Louderman, and train was not only late, but was running down grade at about 60 miles an hour. It is supposed that Mr. Stuckey, who was driving the machine, did not see the train until it was too late, and was squarely on the track when the train struck the machine.

There was a deafening crash and the train dashed onward, bearing the bodies of the two women on the pilot, and leaving the mangled body of Mr. Stuckey at the roadside.

As speedily as possible the engineer brought the train to a standstill, realizing that a terrible accident had occurred. He backed the train to the scene of the tragedy, and there the gruesome details of the accident were apparent. The sight unserved all who witnessed it.

Securely wedged upon the pilot of the engine, with a lap robe still covering them as if it would shut out the terrible sight, were the bodies of the two women. The head of Mrs. Stuckey was torn to pieces. The bodies were drenched in blood, and the pilot of the engine was covered with blood. The mangled body of Mr. Stuckey was in the ditch, and identification was only possible by papers in his pockets. His watch had stopped at 9:30—the instant the fast flying train had struck the automobile. Pieces of the automobile were strewn about in all directions.

Leaving the bodies of the two women upon the pilot, the train continued slowly into New Holland, while the Kirk ambulance was dispatched for the body of Mr. Stuckey.

The bodies of the three victims were removed to the Kirk undertaking establishment in New Holland, to be prepared for burial. Owing to the conditions of the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Stuckey, the caskets will not be opened.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuckey were aged about 42 years, and resided two miles west of New Holland. They have a large number of relatives in New Holland and vicinity, and were highly respected by a host of friends. They leave no children. Mr. Stuckey was a son of Mr. John Stuckey.

Mrs. Ella Cook resided on Washington avenue, this city, and was the mother of Mrs. Ruth Hays, this city, and Miss Marie Cook, who is employed at The Ortmann Motor Company's plant in this city. The two children were notified of the tragedy soon after it occurred. Mrs. Cook was about 44 years of age. Her former husband, Leonard Cook, resides near New Holland.

Mrs. Stuckey and Mrs. Cook were sisters of Mr. Os Louderman, of New Holland, and Mrs. Emma Bryant, of South Bend, Indiana.

Nothing in recent years has so greatly shocked the entire New Holland community, and friends of the victims in this city, as the tragedy which brought the party to such an untimely and shocking death.

The crossing at which the accident occurred is a dangerous one, cutting through the steep embankment and making a sharp dip to cross the track, so that unless a careful lookout is maintained there is grave likelihood of being struck by the speeding trains. The engineer stated that he gave the usual warning whistle, and did not see the machine until within a few feet of the crossing, when it suddenly appeared upon the track and was struck squarely.

Coroner C. A. Teeters, of this city, was called to the scene of the wreck to view the dead.

ADmits ROBbing THURMAN GILMORE

Ralph Westenberg, 22, of Columbus, held in connection with the robbery of Thurman Gilmore, of near Johnson's Crossing, has admitted his guilt and implicated four other young men in the crime.

Gilmore was robbed of $270 while in Columbus, last Friday, and soon after the crime four young men were arrested and $230 of the amount recovered.

The confession of Westenberg was made to C. C. Carson (who is not unknown in this city) and another of fier.

Regarding the latest phase of the affair, the Ohio State Journal says in part:

"Carl Wilson, aged 24, who on the day previous to the robbery was married to Clara Dalton of Cleveland, is said to be ringleader of the gang. His home, he said, is at 36 South Belle Street. The greater portion of the loot, $109, was found in his possession. Eighty-one dollars was found on Westenberg, and $28.65 on H. B. Loveberry, aged 26, Thornville.

"Wilson is better known to police as Arthur Goodman, and Loveberry as Homer Maugh. Westenberg had money concealed in the lining of his neck tie, hat band, underclothes and shoes. Arlie Kibbie, aged 21, 299 So. Front street, and L. Six, aged 28, who gave his address as 1937 North Fourth Street, are the other two held.

"Charges of highway robbery will be filed against the alleged crooks today. Gilmore is held as a witness."

"LITTLE BRISTLE" IN THE HORSE SHOW

Washington C. H. is figuring to some extent in the Horse Show in connection with the National Dairy Show, at Columbus.

J. F. Myers, this city, won second in the Saddle Horse class with "Ohio's Delight."

John R. Thompson's stable of high class harness and saddle horses arrived late last night from Chicago. Included in the list was Jack Tar, the famous runabout horse that has been shown 26 times without defeat. Jack Tar is an Ohio product, being raised near Washington C. H. Since leaving the Buckeye state he has met and defeated the greatest harness horses in the world.

YOUNGEST PERFORMERS AT THE BIG DAIRY SHOW

In the report of the big cattle parade in connection with the National Dairy Show, Saturday, the Ohio State Journal says:

"Two Hagler boys, Alfred, aged 11, and Jesse, aged 13, Washington C. H., provoked comment last night by their skillful handling of two large Belgian mares in the draft horse parade. They are showing their father's horses and are the youngest performers at the fair.

Mr. Roy Hagler was in attendance at the Saturday show and goes back later in the week when the Belgians will be judged.

EIGHTEEN HELD FOR MILITARY SERVICE ENOUGH FOR QUOTA

The Local Board is in receipt of the names of 18 additional men who have been certified over for military service.

The eighteen men are in addition to 5 certified over a week or ten days ago, and seven colored men previously certified for service, so that enough men are now available for the remainder of Fayette's quota or 25 men.

There are a few whose cases have not been acted upon by the District Board, however, and if some of them are certified back for military service, some of the men, by reason of priority of their numbers, will supercede some of those included in the list of 18 just issued.

The 18 held for military service are:

- 1187 Tully Jones Pope, South Solon.
- 858 Bryon Nathan Coe, Jeffersonville.
- 175 Geo. Moore Washington C. H.
- 1172 Alva Beedy, Bloomington.
- 212 Harry Alvin Buchanan, Washington C. H.
- 1160 Jiles Wm. Strait, Jeffersonville.
- 557 Jas. Russell Mark, Selden.
- 1484 Chas. Henry Harman, Greenfield.
- 1554 Ray Parker Lynch, Bloomington.
- 1401 Raymond E. Miller, Washington C. H.

BILL HART HAS BRET HARTE ROLE IN 'THE COLD DECK'

"Bill" Hart in Bret Harte Land" should be the subtitle of the latest Inco-Triangle drama, "The Cold Deck," by J. C. Hawks, which comes to the Palace Wednesday and Thursday, October 24 and 25 in which he is presented as star by Thomas H. Ince. How the shades of the forty-niners and the Vigilantes will welcome their new comrade. In some far distant day Jack Hamlin will foregather with "On the Level" Leigh, the hero of this drama, and discuss the fine points of faro, while Colonel Starbottle listens appreciatively.

Hart is the reincarnation of that strange product of pioneer days in California—the gambler. The type has faded away, leaving only a faint memory in a few romances, and stories and reminiscences in "The Overland Monthly." The man himself, as he looked, breathed, moved and dressed, is brought to life once more on the screen by William S. Hart. He is tall, slim and aristocratic, moving in his world imperturbable and untroubled. His lips curl with genial and cynical contempt for his surroundings. He is dressed with extreme care, as in a way he sets the fashion in Glory Hole or One Horse Gulch. His hat, a beaver, very tall with straight brim, has been brought around the Horn and sent on to him from San Francisco at great expense. His ruffled shirt is immaculate; his cravat is adorned with one big diamond, which is part of the capital of his trade. He wears an elaborate flowered silk waistcoat and a clerical looking frock coat, very long in the skirts. Lavender trousers tightly encase his slim limbs and are drawn taut by straps over the insteps of his highly polished Parisian boots. When he removes his hat to bow to you, as he frequently does, if he desires your better acquaintance, later on in the evening, you note that his rather long locks are carefully brushed forward over the ears. His fingers are long and delicate, almost like a woman's. But they are very dangerous, either with the cards or when straying towards his sixshooter. He is a silent man, holding himself aloof from humanity. He is a welcome guest at many camps, yet frequently outstays his welcome. He has no settled home. He passes by and wanders on and his end is uncertain and usually sudden. Advt.

FUNERAL SERVICES MR. JAMES WIATT

The funeral services of Mr. James Wiatt, pioneer, civil war veteran, Christian gentleman and business man of this city, were impressively conducted by Rev. Arthur P. Cherrington at the home of the son, Mr. Harry Wiatt, of S. Fayette street, Saturday afternoon.

Many of the older friends and old soldiers were seen in the large gathering which paid farewell tribute to a man held in high esteem and affection by all who knew him well.

There was no music, the pastor reading the hymns "Now the Day's over," and "Abide With Me."

Rev. Cherrington followed the reading of the memoir with most appreciative remarks.

Mr. Wiatt was an interesting character of the early days and formative period of Washington. His was the third house built on Sunny Side and his grocery one of the successfully established business ventures of that section in the earlier days.

He was a man of great determination and nerve. At the first call of his country in '61, Mr. Wiatt enlisted for three months and at their expiration re-enlisted for three years. When that time was over and the war not ended he re-enlisted and was with the boys to the last fight. He was on Sherman's march to the sea.

In 1859 Mr. Wiatt started with a party of 100 from Kansas City to Pike's Peak. He was one of two to reach their destination, arriving with a push cart in which he carried meal, bacon and his clothing. After three days working for gold, bringing him in only $2.75, he started on a 300 mile trip to Santa Fe, using his push cart as a canopy when he had chills and fever.

For all that he possessed the iron will of the pioneer, Mr. Wiatt was gentleness itself in all his personal relations and always ready to befriend those needing help.

The burial was made in the family lot of the Washington cemetery, where Mrs. Wiatt was laid less than a year ago.

A "Sane Censorship."

The promptness with which the war and navy department officials made public the news of the torpedoing of the American transport Antilles, a tragedy of war in which seventy brave American soldiers and sailors perished, should do much to assure the folks who have been timid about the censorship. Officials made good their promise to give the public all the news, whether good or bad, as soon as its authenticity was established. Censorship is new to Americans and for that reason there have been serious doubts as to whether we were getting all the news. England and France, early in the war, made the great mistake of withholding from the public all unfavorable news. Americans were promised that the same mistake would not be made here. Notwithstanding repeated assurances, however, that all news would be given to the public promptly and that no happening, no matter how unfavorable, would be suppressed, the secrecy with which all troops and ship movements have been guarded, has given rise to a fear that perhaps something has happened that we don't know about. Suspense always comes to the anxious ones when no news is given out and suspense soon begets fear that the worst has happened. Hereafter anxious ones, it seems, may rest secure in the belief that "no news is good news" and that if anything serious occurs, the officials will at once make public all the facts.

Sugar

It begins to look like Mr. Hoover and his assistants, in the work of administering the food supply of the nation, with a view to conserving the supply and preventing the fixing, by combinations of speculators, of an extortionate market price, were in control of the situation. Following rapidly after Mr. Hoover's announcement that the wholesalers and jobbers of the country had fallen into line and become a part of the national organization came the announcement that our supply of sugar was short and the nation would be compelled to go "on rations" so far as sugar was concerned. It was no sooner said than done. Almost simultaneously with Mr. Hoover's announcement of sugar shortage, the supply gave out and dealers informed the public that each individual could only procure so much and no more. For weeks we have been asked to slow up on the consumption of sugar but, apparently the appeals did not produce the desired results. We were told that we must take care of ourselves and France but we didn't make much progress as we, Americans are not much of late years, on economizing. Now the lid is clamped down and fastened. The people are having a real taste of war. We are forced to economize. Now if Mr. Hoover and his assistants can keep the price down too, it's all right. A little discipline will do us good and it is better to come with sugar than most anything else. We imagine that our "shortage" is, to a great extent, forced for the purpose of conservation and it is far better that the government should control the supply than the speculators. We can go cheerfully to the dealers and accept our little allowance of sugar, knowing that our self denial is certain to result in good. We couldn't do that—we would feel, justly, rebellious—if we knew, or believed, that speculators were manipulating the supply to boost the price.

Modern Dairy Farming

The state has spent, or will have spent, when the work is completed, over a quarter of a million dollars to erect the coliseum in which the National Dairy Show is being held, in Columbus, and it's money well spent. The holding of the big national show brings to Columbus the very finest of dairy stock, it brings all the latest and best appliances for use in the great work of dairy farming and it brings men skilled in the business, men who know what can be done and should be done so that people may have better, purer milk and butter, so that the waste of the old methods may be avoided and every by-product of the milk conserved and used for food. Tremendous progress has been made in the dairy business. We have learned a great many important facts about cleanliness and efficiency. It is not likely that the old days when we could get the good country butter will ever come again but the loss of the precious old brown crock filled with the golden butter, pure and sweet, which our favorite friend from the country would bring each Saturday, is in a measure compensated for in the knowledge that the strong impure stuff, called butter which not so very long ago, rolled into market and which in a pinch we sometimes had to buy for "cooking butter" has disappeared too.

Poetry For Today

CAN'T FORGET.
 What's that? I homesick? No, I'm not;
 It's but a headache I have got.
 It kind of makes me sick at heart,
 Nor care to check the tears that start
 As 'round I idly roam.
 A-thinkin' of the folks at home.
 Yes I'm not homesick; jest' you mind,
 I never was the homesick kind.
 Jest' see 'em for a little while—
 How would I like it? Note my smile!
 For somehow—well, I can't forget
 My well-loved wife and our dear
 "Pet;"
 And they so very far away
 Jes' makes life harder every day.
 "At gone" I feel—inside—but mind,
 I never was the homesick kind.
 It's now exactly half past eight;
 Eyes shut, I see 'em sure as fate;
 There's Pet, wrapped wholly in the deeds
 Of heroes, in the book she reads!
 There's wifey—dear old wifey—she
 Jes' sits there writin'—an' to me!
 It all is "home sweet home," you mind,
 But pshaw! I'm not the homesick kind!
 My gracious! but it would be fun,
 With me not tellin' any one,
 To now jes' fit all pressin' cares,
 An' drop in on 'em unawares
 Jes' when our gal says, "Mamma,
 dear,
 Oh, how I wish that Dad was here!"
 An' then what shouts! But—can't—go—yet!
 Not homesick—no; Jes'—can't forget!

VERTEBRA BROKEN STILL PARALYZED

An examination of the injuries sustained by Mr. R. G. Jefferson, who fell from an apple tree and was seriously injured, several days ago, disclosed the fact that the fourth vertebra was fractured by the fall, causing pressure on the spinal cord and resulting in paralysis. Part of the pressure has been relieved and Mr. Jefferson is some better, but still unable to use either arm. Mr. Cornelius N. McCoy, a prominent farmer of the southern part of the county, was united in marriage to Mrs. Cynthia Draise, of Springfield, Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. McCoy returned immediately after the ceremony to the McCoy home near Lees-burn.

Everything that is good for us is hard to do. Saving money in the right way is one of the hardest things in the world. However, a lot of people do it and if they do it YOU can do it. You will never get very far in the world if you don't. The young man dodges the unpleasant facts and thinks he is getting by all right. But sooner or later one of these facts is going to hit him right between the eyes and then it's "curtains" for him. Take another look at the picture at the top of this.

BANNER RICE FOR LARGE FARM

The T. T. Beatty farm, at Seldon, was sold Saturday, through the Jamison & Brown agency, to Mr. Harry Davis, of Johnson's Crossing. The 202 acres brought $200 an acre, the price being one of the highest ever paid in this county for a farm of that size. The Beatty farm is exceptionally fertile and well improved, and the handsome modern home most beautifully located on a high knoll, has been greatly admired. Mr. Davis is one of the progressive farmers of the county and has operated for a number of years the large Kouns farm at Johnson's Crossing.

SPEEDERS SCARCE AND ONLY 15 ARE PINCHED SUNDAY

Automobile drivers who pass through this county on their way to and from the cantonment at Chillicothe, are beginning to learn to drive without so much recklessness, at least while in Fayette and adjoining counties, the respect for the law being due to the presence of motorcops in the city and county. Sunday, while a great number of machines passed through the city, only about 15 machine drivers were cited to pay fines for excessive speed. Five of the men were caught in this city, and sent to the office of Mayor Oster, where each left $10 and costs for his offense. In the county about a half score were caught going in excess of 35 miles per hour, some of them making 50 or more, and they will be cited to appear before Probate Judge Allen and answer to the charge, $10 and the costs is the usual fine in Probate court for the first offense in cases of speeding. The difference between the driving Sunday and a week ago was so pronounced that it was evident that the 40 cases of speeding last Sunday caused greater respect for the law.

50,000 POUNDS OLEO FOR CAMP

Twenty thousand pounds of an order of 50,000 pounds of oleomargarine secured for the quartermaster's department by the Dahl-Campbell Branch of this city, was shipped Monday, and the additional 30,000 pounds will be sent to the Camp from the factory within a few days.

Your Grocer Believes in Good VALUE-- That's Why he SELLS Golden Sun Coffee
 NO grocer can afford to sell you poor-quality coffee at good-quality prices—not unless he wants to sell his coffee from a dusty wagon, like some peddlers. Your grocer gets Golden Sun Coffee clean, and it comes to you clean, without even the natural dust and chaff that make ordinary coffee so muddy and bitter. Try a pound. You will like its delightful aroma and flavor.

Social & Personal

A very pretty and enjoyable birthday party was given Saturday in honor of Miss Norma Dodd's fifteenth birthday. Twelve girls of her high school class participated.

The afternoon was spent in music, games and a Teddy Bear contest in which Miss Doris Chaney won the first prize and Miss Carrie Bell the consolation prize.

The table decorations used were pumpkin faces and fall flowers, consisting of daisies, chrysanthemums and marigolds.

Appetizing refreshments were served.

The girls left with the young hostesses many beautiful remembrances as well as good wishes for many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. Alexander H. Ballard was hostess at a daintily appointed Red Cross tea Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sheridan entertained at an enjoyable family dinner Sunday. Mrs. Sheridan's mother, Mrs. E. J. Craig, brother, Mr. E. H. Craig, and wife of Columbus, sister, Mrs. Lawrence Hay, of Seattle, and their son Charles, who was home from Camp Sherman.

Club women of this city attending the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs at Akron last week are enthusiastic over the success and interest of the Convention.

Patriotism was the key note of the sessions and the service that women are rendering the government was brought to added realization.

A remarkable address was given by Dr. Steiner, a Polish Jew now a talented Congregational minister, giving his best efforts to instilling love of services into foreign born Americans. His Americanism and patriotism thrilled and shamed those native born who had not risen to the height of his conception.

The big banquet at the Firestone club house, with Mrs. Beatrice Forbes Robertson Hale, a sister of the actor, as speaker was the social event of the Federation. Mrs. Hale delivered a superb address, wonderful in its command of language and her presence magnificent. Her subject was "What Women are Doing. What They Have Been Doing and What They Will Do." Mrs. Hale is a strong advocate of Women's Suffrage although not the militant variety. She said "Women have done so much to help in the war and will do such a big part that the only thing men can do is to give them the right of franchise."

There were many charming social affairs at the magnificent homes of Akron's millionaires. One of the features was the Press breakfast on Thursday, another the Americanization breakfast, which was attended by local delegates. At the latter club and education work among the foreign population was taken up and the need of it in large centers pressed.

The President, Mrs. Zimmerman, has been very popular with club women. Her splendid poise and absolute fairness much admired.

Mrs. Prentiss E. Rood was the incoming President. The election this year was very quiet and there was no effort to break the slate presented by the nominating committee.

The Akron people did everything possible for the pleasure of the club women.

Mrs. D. S. Craig and Miss Edith Gardner, representing the Cecilians, and Miss Florence Ogle, the Brownings, returned the last of the week. Mrs. Ada Jones, also a Browning

Club delegates went on to Cleveland to spend Sunday with friends.

M COMPANY NOW ON GUARD DUTY IN METROPOLIS

Letters Indicate Entire Third Battalion May Remain in United States Indefinitely — Others May Winter Abroad.

Letters from various members of Company M, of the Third Battalion, 166th United States Infantry, indicate that the entire battalion, composed of Companies K, L and M will remain on police duty in and near New York for an indefinite period, and that they may not be sent to France before next spring, or not until several months have elapsed.

One letter stated that the men of M Company, and in fact the entire battalion had been scattered about at various points to do patrol, or police duty, such as guarding terminals, public buildings, bridges, docks, and in fact wherever guard duty is necessary in order to prevent alien enemies from blowing up places of military importance or in other ways hampering the government.

One soldier stated that he was in Brooklyn on guard duty, and had his hours of patrol fixed, and that in all probability the men would spend the winter in the United States.

The letters also indicate that the Third Battalion might be the only portion of the Rainbow Division that will winter in this country, although the writers merely speculated on this phase of the matter.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF TRAIN VICTIMS

The funeral services of Mr. and Mrs. Alf Stuckey and Mrs. Ella Cook, who were killed by the east bound passenger train in New Holland Sunday night, will be held Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, from the Church of Christ, one service being held for all of the victims.

Interment will be made in the New Holland cemetery.

Mrs. Emma Bryant and Miss Eva Louderman, sisters of the two unfortunate women, are on their way from South Bend, Indiana, to attend the funeral.

BORDER SERVICE GREATLY HELPED DECLARES CAPTAIN

Capt. O. E. Hardway Writes Interestingly from Camp Mills, Ohio Regiment Gets Praise—Fed Men in Hospital.

The Herald is in receipt of an interesting letter from Captain O. E. Hardway, commander of M Company, 166th United States Infantry, which for sometime has been stationed at Camp Mills, Long Island, but which for some little time has been expecting transfer to another camp. The letter, in part, follows:

"Camp A. L. Mills, N. Y.,
"October 19, 1917.
"Editor The Herald:
"I notice by the Herald that several of the Fayette county boys have gone to conscription camps, and I suppose that they are getting adjusted to some of the pleasures of army life by this time.

TIRED, NERVOUS HOUSEWIFE TOOK VINOL

Now She is Strong and Well

Berkeley, Cal.—"I was nervous, irritable, no appetite, could not sleep, and was always tired, so my housework was a great effort. After many other medicines had failed Vinol built me up and made me strong. I have a good appetite and sleep well. Every nervous, weak, ailing woman should try it."—Mrs. N. Edmunds, 2127 Dwight Way, Berkeley, Cal.
We ask every nervous, weak, run-down, ailing woman in this town to try this cod liver and iron tonic on our guarantee to return their money if it fails to help them.
Blackmer & Tanquary, Druggists, Washington C. H., Ohio.

"Company 'M' has several men in the hospital with measles at the present time, but all are recovering very nicely and we expect them back with the organization in a few days.
"The intensive training that we have had is weeding out all those that are unfit for service, and enables an organization commander to find out all those who would like to be unfit for service. The Ohio regiment gets very favorable comment from various sources, and of course we think that it merits it.
"At the present time, Company M has seven officers, one captain, two First Lieutenants, and four Second Lieutenants. Four of the Lieutenants are from the training camps, two from Camp Funston, Texas, one from Nebraska and one from Minnesota. All of them, I think, will make splendid officers. I believe that the Training Camp proposition is a success, judging from the calibre of officers that have been assigned to the 166th Infantry. The work of handling the company is easier than it was a year ago, as the experience of the old men on the border has been a great help in getting the new men into shape.
"Would like to write more news but am not permitted to do so, as we have very imperative instruction relative to all correspondence.
"Yours very respectfully,
"O. E. HARDWAY,
"Captain 166th Infantry Commanding Company M."

PLUCKY TEACHER GRABBED PATCH AND GETS THIEF
How a patch from the trousers of a young burglar who recently entered the Washington High School building, proved the clue that resulted in the identification of the thief, has just come to light as result of a full confession of the young thief who committed the crime.
The story is an interesting one, and indicates that there is at least one genuine Sherlock among the women instructors of the Washington schools.
Some little time ago some money paid in by pupils as subscription to a magazine, was placed in a drawer in the teacher's desk. That night the room was entered after a window had been jimmied, and the desk rifled.
After this had occurred a second time, and there was every indication that the thief was a pupil in the room, and had watched the teacher place the money in the desk, a trap was planned and cleverly executed.
A small sum of money was placed in the desk in the presence of the pupils, and that evening the teacher, in company with another woman teacher, remained in the room for the purpose of catching the thief, believing that he would return a third time after the money in the desk.
About eight o'clock in the night the two teachers heard someone scrambling up the tennis fence at the north east corner of the building, and a little later a piece of iron had been thrust under window and the window forced. A boy stepped into the room and walking to the desk opened the drawer in which the money had been placed. It was then that a flashlight was turned upon the young burglar.
With an unearthly yell the boy covered his face and fled for the window, but the teachers were not inactive in the meantime, and gave chase, with the result that as the boy was leaping from the window one of the teachers made a grab and pulled a patch from the seat of the fellow's trousers.
By the aid of the patch the teachers eventually located the right boy and he broke down and admitted his part in the crime, involving a second youth. Both boys were punished and both promised faithfully that they would never again attempt such a crime.

ADVERTISING FIRM ADOPTS A NEW NAME

Taylor-Critchfield-Clague Company Becomes Critchfield & Co. Following Unanimous Action of its Stockholders.
Chicago, October 21—The name of the Taylor-Critchfield-Clague Company, one of the country's largest advertising and merchandising concerns, has been amended to Critchfield & Company, by the unanimous vote of its stockholders.
This means no change whatever in the personnel or control of the organization, except that Mr. Stanley Clague, whose release was granted a few weeks ago in order that he might accept the management of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, is no longer connected with it.
The home office of Critchfield & Company is in the Brooks Building, Chicago, and important branches are maintained in New York, Boston, Detroit, and Minneapolis. The company's activities in the world of advertising and selling cover a period of twenty-five years, and in that time a business of large proportions, with many of the leading manufacturers and other institutions numbered among its clients, has been built up.
The company's adherence to the finer business ideals, and its contact with commercial problems of every kind, have brought to it both a reputation for fair dealing and a wide experience, and this formality in the way of change of a name means no revision of policy.

ZEPPELIN DROPS BOMBS ON BOAT

(Associated Press Correspondence)
Stockholm, October 5.—The Swedish steamship Flindria was attacked by a Zeppelin on its latest trip homeward. The first bomb which was dropped narrowly missed the ship. The engines were stopped and the crew ordered into the boats. Four more bombs were dropped dangerously near the vessel. Before all those on board had entered the boats there was a panic, and the captain had to use his revolver to enforce discipline.
The ship's company, after remaining for about two hours in the boats, returned to their ship. Several hours later another airship appeared and hovered about the ship for a time, but departed without doing any harm.

VASSAR GIRLS PROVE WOMEN GOOD FARMERS

Vassar College girls who for some time past have been learning agriculture at the institution's experimental farm have shown by results that they can farm with the best of men. They demonstrated their skill as farm laborers at the Eastern States exposition and dairy show, which opened recently at Springfield Mass.
Attired in khaki bloomers, middie blouses, masculine-looking shoes and the most becoming of farm hats, the women are showing visitors just what college girl farmers can do.
They handle every kind and style of farm machinery, including harrows, harvesters and heavy tractors. They know every part of the apparatus and its repair. To harrow, plant now with scythe and machine, to rake and pitch hay, to shock grain and to build fences and milk are a few of the accomplishments of these rising farmerettes.
The girls started their intensive training course immediately after graduation, working on a farm and doing all of the Summer time tasks that fall to the lot of a farm hand. They were up at four, worked two hours before breakfast, and then toiled under the boiling sun till their day was up. They unanimously declared it the best time they ever had in their lives.

I used Foley Kidney Pills and soon the pains and aches were gone. They are worth their weight in gold to me." Blackmer & Tanquary, advt.

KILLED BY BROTHER

(By American Press)
Milwaukee, Oct. 22.—United States Senator Paul O. Husting of Wisconsin died at a farmhouse near Rush Lake, Wis., as the result of wounds accidentally inflicted upon him with a shotgun by his brother Gustave, while hunting ducks. Senator Husting recently returned to his home at Mayville, after the close of the extra session of congress. He, with his brother, had gone on a hunting expedition to Rush Lake and the two were in a boat when the accident occurred.

SOLDIERS' CHRISTMAS

Washington, Oct. 22.—Every American soldier and sailor will have the best Christmas the Red Cross can give him. Each one in this country or abroad will receive a Christmas package approximating a value of $1.50 and containing chewing gum, tobacco, writing material, games, dried fruit, candles, puzzles, knives, mouth organs or other articles. Each package is to be wrapped in a khaki-colored handkerchief and tied with red ribbon.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets
That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.
Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.
No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.
If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.
